Guided tour of Wellsboro

The town of Wellsboro is a perfect example of a well-preserved town complete with a vibrant Main Street, beautiful well-kept homes, and the distinctive gaslights which line the wide boulevards throughout the town. Trees lining the streets and a beautiful central park area add to the ambiance of the town. Anyone who visits Wellsboro feels like he or she has stepped back in time.

Visit the PA Grand Canyon Overlook & Visitor's Center

On the east rim of the canyon, the 585-acre Leonard Harrison State Park has the most famous scenic views of the canyon. The "Grand Canyon of Pennsylvania" begins just south of Ansonia, along US 6 and continues south for about 47 miles. At its deepest point, Pine Creek Gorge is 1,450 feet deep and nearly one mile wide. At Leonard Harrison State Park, the depth of the canyon is about 800 feet. This area received national acclaim in 1968 when a 12-mile section of Pine Creek Gorge was designated as a National Natural Landmark by the National Park Service.
