History of Mount Hope Mansion

Over the course of 208 years, Mount Hope Estate and Winery, located in Northern Lancaster County, has grown from a private residence to a flourishing historic estate featuring spectacular entertainment. Outdoor festivals, indoor theater and a Victorian wine shop provide something for everyone 365 days of the year.

Mount Hope began as the summer home for four generations of the Grubb family, an early American iron master family who found their way from England seeking their fortune. The patriarch of the family, Peter Grub II, began purchasing the properties that were to become the Estate in 1779.

Peter's son, Henry Bates Grubb, built the house itself, in 1800-1805. It was designed in a classic Federal style and originally featured only 10 rooms. At the same time, the formal gardens surrounding the Mansion were created, which continues to exist this day.

Daisy Elizabeth Brooke Grubb (1850-1936) was the last member of the Grubb family to reside at Mount Hope. It was she, in 1895, who enlarged the manor home to an elaborate 32-room Mansion.

Miss Daisy passed away in 1936 and Mount Hope was subdivided and sold. It passed through several owners until December 1979 when the estate was purchased by Chuck Romito, who envisioned it as a place where award-winning, quality wines were produced and sold. Vineyards were planted, wines were made and Mount Hope Estate & Winery opened for business in 1980.
