Steven F Udvar-Hazy Center

The Steven F. Udvar-Hazy Center near Washington Dulles International Airport is the companion facility to the museum in Washington, D.C. Hundreds of historically significant air- and spacecraft, along with thousands of small artifacts, are on display in an open, hangar-like setting. Other features of the Center include the Donald D. Engen Observation Tower, the Airbus IMAX Theater, and the Mary Baker Engen Restoration Hangar, where visitors can watch museum specialists at work restoring artifacts.

Things to Do

Exhibitions

Learn about human space flight, World War II aviation, vertical flight, and much more.

Restoration Hangar

Watch as our specialists reconstruct, repair, and preserve our rare artifacts.

Simulators

Fly jet-age combat sorties in simulators that let you perform 360-degree barrel rolls!

IMAX Theater

The Airbus IMAX Theater is open select days. See films projected on a screen five-stories-high with six-channel digital surround sound.

Observation Tower

Watch planes take off and land at Washington Dulles International Airport and get a 360-degree view of the surrounding area.

Visit the store!

The museum store is encouraging cashless payments at this time.

Food

The Shake Shack is currently undergoing construction and is expected to open in 2022.

Accessibility

Exterior Access Ramps: Access ramps are located in front of the Museum's main entrance.

Interior Elevators: Elevators are available in several locations throughout the building.

Wheelchairs: Visitors are welcome to bring their own mobility devices. A limited number of standard and bariatric wheelchairs are available for use while visiting the Museum. Sanitized wheelchairs are provided on a first come, first served basis, and stationed to the right after entering the Udvar-Hazy Center.
