Springfield Museums

Located in the heart of downtown Springfield, Massachusetts, the Springfield Museums offer access to five world-class museums, including the Amazing World of Dr. Seuss Museum and the Dr. Seuss National Memorial Sculpture Garden. The Amazing World of Dr. Seuss Museum, the newest museum on the Quadrangle, is devoted to Springfield native Theodor Geisel, aka Dr. Seuss! The first floor features interactive exhibits exploring Dr. Seuss's Springfield roots and providing opportunities to experiment with new sounds and vocabulary, play rhyming games, and invent stories—all in line with Geisel's revolutionary role in changing how we learn to read. The second floor, curated by Geisel's two step daughters and great nephew, recreates Geisel's studio and living room (with the furniture and art materials he actually used) and features never before publicly displayed art, family photographs and letters, and the original Geisel Grove sign which used to hang in Forest Park. You can even find Theophrastus, the toy stuffed dog Ted Geisel's mother gave to him when he was a boy in Springfield.

Lunch on own at onsite café

Storowtown Village Museum

Storowton Village Museum is a reconstructed village of nine authentic 18th and 19th century buildings from Massachusetts and New Hampshire, assembled around a traditional town green. Located on the grounds of Eastern States Exposition and The Big E, the museum offers hands-on educational programs and guided tours to share the history and traditions of New England.

Dinner included at Steaming Tender Restaurant

Day 3                  Sunday (B)

Quabbin Reservoir

Today, along with the Wachusett Reservoir, it is the primary water supply for Boston, some 65 miles to the east. Construction of the Quabbin required impoundment of the Swift River and the taking of 4 towns. The four lost towns of the Quabbin Reservoir — Dana, Enfield, Greenwich, and Prescott — are not your typical "ghost towns." You won't find dusty streets, old saloons and blowing tumbleweeds here. After all, these ghost towns are underwater. The foundations remain, but their former residents have long since settled elsewhere.

Old Sturbridge Village – lunch on own

Old Sturbridge Village, the largest outdoor history museum in the Northeast, depicts a rural New England town of the 1830s. Step inside more than 40 original buildings, and explore homes, meetinghouses, a district school, country store, bank, working farm, three water-powered mills, and trade shops – all situated on more than 200 scenic acres. Talk with authentically costumed historians and see heritage breed farm animals. Discover the endless ways to immerse yourself in the Village.
