The Philadelphia Flower Show (PFS)

As the nation’s largest and longest-running horticultural event, the PHS Philadelphia Flower Show is a stunning and educational look at the world of floral design and gardening. Annually, the event features breathtaking displays by the world’s premier floral and landscape designers.

“The Garden Electric”

This exciting and vibrant new show will be held at the Pennsylvania Convention Center, a return indoors after two years of being held outdoors in Philadelphia’s FDR Park.

That spark of joy comes while giving or receiving flowers — this moment captured by “The Garden Electric.” Feelings of excitement and celebration come from the dazzling array of colors, unique shapes and textures, and rich fragrances of gorgeous floral displays and gardens. This year’s theme brings the electrifying presence of today’s most dynamic designers of floral arrangements, lush gardens, and landscapes to visitors worldwide. Celebrate the bold, the daring, the eccentric and the joyful side of flowers and gardens.

Where to Eat: Food can be purchased at the Flower Show throughout the Pennsylvania Convention Center. There are Snack Bars at the rear of the main exhibit hall, and full dining services location on Level 3 above the exhibition halls in the Overlook Café. You will also find numerous restaurants in the area immediately surrounding the Convention Center, including Reading Terminal Market and in nearby Chinatown.

Free Re-entry: Visitors can re-enter the show on the same day free. Need to have hand stamped.

Handicap Accessibility: The Pennsylvania Convention Center is a handicap accessible building. Elevators are available to guests who require them. Wheelchairs are available for rent on a first-come first-served basis.

Visitor Suggestions:

- Dress for the occasion – There is a lot to see, so comfortable shoes are a must. Dress in layers as it can get chilly on the Show floor.
- Take notes - Jot down the name of plants you like or the contact information of exhibitors, or snap a photo of your favorite exhibits.
- Make a shopping list - The Flower Show is a shopper's paradise!
